Fields of Practice and Electives

Fields of Practice

The mission of the MSW program is to prepare social workers for leadership in the profession and for advanced social work practice in one of two concentrations: Family-Centered Practice and Integrated Practice. Both concentrations allow students to develop advanced skills to work with families and communities and advocate for social change.

In addition, students have many opportunities to develop expertise with specific populations through electives. Electives are organized into several fields of practice that are divided into five broad areas: Aging and End-of-Life, Children and Families, Clinical Practice, Leadership and Social Justice Practice, and Higher Education (see Table 1).

Students are NOT required to select a specific field of practice but may find the information in this guide helpful when selecting electives.

Students MUST enroll in at least one elective that is directly related to and prior to their Advanced Practicum.

Planning for a Field of Practice

Students pursuing a specific credential, such as a certificate, should meet with the contact person listed in Table 1 prior to or during their first semester to determine whether and when they can complete the courses for a credential.

Regardless of whether you are pursuing a specific credential, it is important to understand:

- Many electives are offered once a year or, sometimes, every other year.
- An elective may not be offered at all School of Social Work centers.
- An elective may be cancelled due to low enrollment.
- Many electives are offered during summer session only.
- Academic advisers do not know whether an elective course will be offered prior to its posting on MyUI. If you need information about a course to decide whether to pursue a field of practice, please contact Kate Kemp who may have information about whether and when a course will be offered in the future.

Fields of Practice

Students pursuing a credential should meet with the contact person (listed below) before or during their first semester to determine whether and when they can complete the courses for a credential. Program Administrator Kate Kemp is available to consult on all fields of practice, including anticipated course offerings (kate-kemp@uiowa.edu or 319-335-1254). Please note the School may offer an elective every other year or cancel an elective due to low enrollment.

Resilience and Trauma-Informed Practice Graduate Certificate of Completion

The Resilience and Trauma-Informed Practice Certificate of Completion prepares students for competent trauma-informed practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities in all service settings. School Social Work

Iowa School Social Work Endorsement

Social workers must be licensed by the Iowa Board of Educational Examiners to practice in schools. Information for the initial application for the Iowa School Social Work Endorsement is available at:

<http://www.boee.iowa.gov/licensure/apply.html> If you are interested in School Social Work Endorsement in other States, contact that State. Iowa's requirements may or may not fulfill other State's requirements.

Contact: Kate Kemp, Program Administrator, at kate-kemp@uiowa.edu or call 319-335-1254. The program administrator is the liaison to the College of Education for the endorsement.

The Educational Examiners Board has two licensing options for social workers:

Option 1: School Social Work Endorsement. The individual applying for this endorsement must be nominated by the University to the Iowa Department of Education for the School Social Work Endorsement. The curriculum required for this endorsement is detailed below.

Option 2: Statement of Professional Recognition (SPR). The special education director (or designee) of an area education agency or an administrator in a local school district can submit a letter to the Board of Education Examiners requesting that an SPR (statement of professional recognition) be issued.

The candidate for the Statement of Professional Recognition must have:

- An official transcript reflecting the master's degree (or PhD) in social work
- A license at the LMSW or LISW level from the Iowa Board of Social Work Examiners
- Documentation of completion of the human relations component.
- A temporary SPR (statement of professional recognition) can be issued for one school year for individuals that have not yet completed the human relations component or fulfilled the supervision requirement for a social work license. The individual must complete the human relations component by the end of the first year.
- Temporary SPR: A temporary SPR will be issued for one school year. An approved human relations course must be completed before the start of the next school year. The applicant must provide evidence that the human relations component has been fulfilled within the required time frame.

At first glance, it may appear that Option 2 is the least complicated route to school social work practice. However, this option has some disadvantages. The holder of an SPR can practice as a school social worker indefinitely. However, they cannot move on to leadership positions within education. To be eligible to take the courses needed for administrative endorsements, a person must hold an entry level license in education. In the past, school social workers had to return to school to complete a teaching license. The School Social Work Endorsement made school social workers equal members of the education community. The Endorsement serves as the entry level education license for school social workers, allowing them to move on to leadership positions in education.

School Social Work Endorsement – 20 s. h. are required

Courses for the Endorsement are offered by the School of Social Work in cooperation with the College of Education and meet the Chapter 1 State Requirements for an Original School Social Worker Endorsement – Endorsement 15.3 (15).

Supervision of student must be under an experienced School Social Work practitioner/Licensed Social Worker to include experiences in assessment; direct services to children and families; consultation; staffing, community liaison and documentation; which leads to development of professional identity and disciplined use of self. If a person has served two years as a school social worker, the practicum experience can be waived. This experience must be documented when application for licensure is submitted.
