

Full-time, Part-time position

Job Description

Evergreen Therapy Center (www.evergreentherapycenter.com) is a small psychotherapy private practice in Coralville, Iowa. I (Jason Drwal, Ph.D.) am the owner/therapist in the clinic. I am looking to add a licensed therapist to my practice who has experience in trauma work and can provide individual and couples therapy. LISW, LMHCs, LMFTs, and Psychologists are encouraged to apply. Licensure in the state of Iowa is required.

Evergreen Therapy Center specializes in treating trauma but we see a broad range of clients suffering from job burnout and adjustment disorders to complex PTSD and personality disorders. It is possible to see children, adolescents, families, or other populations depending on your training and interests. Experience in a medical setting is a plus but not necessary.

Work is remote at the present and may stay that way depending on the interests of clients to continue teletherapy in the future. Office space is available. Therapists who telework can set their own hours. In-person therapy will require a schedule but with great flexibility. The minimum caseload is 10 clients per week with the potential to build as many clients as your time allows.

Pay is a percentage of your revenues and varies between $60 to $90 per client. Above all, compassion, competence, and operating in a client-centered manner are essential. To apply, please email jasondrwal@evergreentherapycenter.com. Please include a resume with license # and a brief discussion of your interest in this position.
